Dear Parent/Carer

As you may already know, the school has a Twitter account (@stmaryqom), where we keep you informed of events and fun things that the children are participating in.

From September, we are hoping to use Twitter on a more regular basis, keeping you more informed on what your child is learning in the classroom so you can further discuss the conversation with your child/children. Most schools do this now and it is a super way of engaging with parents about the school life.

Twitter feeds may also include;

- school outings
- class sharing assemblies
- curriculum days
- school liturgies and collective worship
- sports and PE events

Our accounts have the tightest Twitter security settings - people cannot share our tweets for instance.

If you do have any queries/concerns about this please contact Mr Hermann or Mrs Graham.

We look forward to sharing all of the great learning work and the enjoyable occasions in school on our Twitter feeds! We know you will enjoy the experience of seeing your child/children in and out of our school setting.

Yours sincerely

Mr Hermann
